

Discovering the Danube Delta by boat

4 Days / 3 Nights

The Danube Delta is the second largest delta in Europe and it is considered special for its wilderness, being part of UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Having an intricate pattern of channels and lakes, it is considered the European paradise of flora and fauna with 12,000 kinds of plants and 250 species of migratory birds. The place is original with its willow forests and the groups of pelicans and egrets. Here, where land and water come across, you can find the Lipovans, an exiled minority from Russia.

Taken by a motor boat and guided by a local fisherman, you will feel that you are in an original world which extends to the sandy beaches of the calm Black Sea, where you can enjoy the perfect temperature of water.

YOUR PROGRAM

Day 1 - Departure from Bucharest to Tulcea and by boat to Crisan

Breakfast at the hotel. Transfer by train or by bus to Tulcea, the "gate of the Delta". Departure from Tulcea by boat and arrival at Crisan, a small fishing village in the heart of the Delta. Crisan will be your "base camp" for exploring this aquatic paradise. Our host will welcome you at the docks. Free evening to immerse into the atmosphere of the delta. Possibility of a short canoe ride, it is recommended before sunset. If you like fish, your dinner will be a delight. Accommodation in a charming guesthouse.

Day 2 - Boat ride to Letea

The day starts with a boat trip in order to discover a different aspect of the delta, with its labyrinth of channels, lakes and ponds, boasting a large number of species of birds. Guided by our host, a fisherman who knows perfectly this water roads, we will go to Letea by boat - "a village forgotten by God". Besides this incredibly charming and traditional village, we come across the surprising forest of Letea hosting birches, secular oaks, but also lianas and very curious flora which grew by means of the seeds brought by migratory birds coming from Asia and Africa. Back to Crisan. Picnic on the river bank; back on board in the afternoon. The culinary charm will bewitch you again.

Day 3 - Boat ride to explore the south side of Sulina

Today, you go back into the boat to explore the south side of Sulina. We will discover the longest canals and huge lakes that are home to the largest bird colonies. You will be surprised by a landscape contrasting large extended water to small wooded channels where you can barely move because of the aquatic vegetation. This will continue until late afternoon when you reach the village of Crisan. New cuisine delights.

Day 4 - Departure from Tulcea to Bucharest

Transfer by boat to Tulcea leaving behind this watery world that welcomed us throughout the journey. Transfer by bus or by train to Bucharest. Free time to visit "Paris of Eastern Europe". Night in a 3 hotel in the centre of Bucharest.
